days ago we had an arrival here of H: B.

Sir Thomas brought letters from the English Government to Queen Pomare, and as she was on the acrival of the forgate, at Moreo, he sent a boat for her to come over as the had never been at Tabili since the French had got possession, and holsted their protectorate flag. But on the receipt of Sir Thomas letter she came across in state, with the old Tahis ti's flag flinging in her barge. She pulled directly on board the frigate, without anding and they manned the yards and led did on her departure. This annoyed the French greatly, so much so that they issued a protest against the proceedings of the Commander of H. B. M. ship Talbot in hoisting and saluting the old Tahiti flag, thereby dissurbing the peace and tranquility of the place, and acting directly bostile, to France. Sir Thomas then requested the Overn to call a meeting of all the intrabitants of the Island; to know whether was their wish that the French should in defending John Bull's honor where hold possession and govern the Island. The meeting took place resierday in the Queen's enclosure, and it was attended Commodore Nicholas arrived here in H. B. M. Vindictive, of 59 guns, bringing presents to the Queen from Queen Victor ris; and having heard of the manner in which the French gained possession of the Island, immediately made known, in a public meeting of the natives, his intention of lying here and protecting them against the encroachments of the French at all hazarde.

The next day, being the third day of his acrival here, he unbent sails and wrapped his ship abreast the Queen's residence, where he is still lying. We have also two French sloops of war here that have been lying here for the last two months, doing nothing but watching the proneenings of the English Commodore with the nimost jealousy, and they intend to remain here till the arrival of the French Admiral, who is expected daily.
